COMPANY OVERVIEW
Arthrex is a world leader in orthopedic surgical device design, research, manufacturing and medical education committed to one mission: Helping Surgeons Treat Their Patients Better™. Most everyone in their lifetime will develop arthritis or experience an injury, and Arthrex technology will help those people remain healthy and active into their older years.

Visitors to Arthrex’s global headquarters in beautiful Naples, Florida will find a vibrant atmosphere of rapid product innovation, medical research and surgeon collaboration. The sprawling campus houses corporate and manufacturing operations, as well as Arthrex’s premier medical education facility, which serves as an education destination for health care providers from around the world to learn about new products and techniques through hands-on surgical skills training programs.

DID YOU KNOW...

- Arthrex has developed more than 11,000 products, and releases, on average, more than 1,000 new products every year to advance minimally invasive orthopedics worldwide.
- More than 95% of Arthrex products are manufactured, assembled and packaged in the U.S.
- Arthrex’s world-class medical education programs for health care professionals demonstrate our unprecedented emphasis on hands-on learning and continuing education.
- Arthrex is a major exporter to more than 100 countries around the world.
- As a privately held company without outside investors, Arthrex is able to introduce products to market more expeditiously and focus solely on surgeon and patient needs.
- Arthrex established a manufacturing apprenticeship program (AMAP) to train CNC (computer numerically controlled) machine operators; one of only three such programs in the state of Florida.
- Arthrex is mindful of the effect our corporate activity has on the environment, and we are committed to doing business in an ecologically friendly manner.
- Arthrex proudly maintains a low employee turnover rate, and is recognized for its extraordinary workplace culture and employee benefits such as the Arthrex Medical Center (AMC), which provides free, quality health care to employees and their families.
MISSION: MAKING PEOPLE BETTER

Arthrex is dedicated to making people’s lives better around the world. Our internal mission statement—“Making People Better”—signifies the work our employees do every day to impact the lives of others. It also represents Arthrex’s commitment to making employees’ lives better through job security, educational and growth opportunities and exceptional benefits, in a safe, team-oriented work environment. Additionally, Arthrex supports hundreds of philanthropic efforts each year, and especially appreciates the organizations that provide our employees opportunities to volunteer and give back to the community.

WHY EMPLOYEES LIKE WORKING AT ARTHREX

“Here we have the opportunity to actually make people’s lives better. The projects that we work on at Arthrex have the potential to get your favorite athlete back in the game, or maybe even help fix an injury of someone you care about who could be suffering. It’s truly meaningful work.”

NICHOLAS CHRISTIANO,
Biological Safety Specialist

“As part of the manufacturing process, I have a lot of pride in the work I do. What we’re doing is truly Making People Better.”

JEFF CHERNEY,
Senior Quality Control Inspector

“Our teams are at their strongest when they are inclusive of members from all backgrounds. Science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) careers have been historically lacking in gender diversity, but Arthrex provides many opportunities for women to advance their positions within the industry.”

MAYA ERICKSON,
Manufacturing Engineer
